Dear Ms. Canzoneri

The proposal you sent to Bill Gates was forwarded to me. My name is Jenn O'Neil and I am Business Manager in Microsoft's Opportunity Management Center (OMC).

Since your submission referred to actual or potential patent rights, we have forwarded your information to our legal group for their consideration. This group works directly with the various business groups on patent related investments and reviews proposals to determine alignment with our business.

I do want to help set your expectations on follow-up. Given the volume of inquiries they receive, they generally only respond where there is interest on behalf of the business group. Once submitted to the team, I will no longer have any visibility regarding the submission or its status, by design to protect respective IP.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Partnering with Microsoft

There are two opportunities to forging a closer relationship with Microsoft:

- If you have formed a company please consider becoming a Microsoft partner. The first step is to register at: <http://www.microsoft.com/partner/help/whyregister/>. This site provides access to Microsoft partner information and updates you on programs and resources as they become available.
- If you are an ISV and have developed a software application, please consider certifying your software application in the Microsoft Certified Partner (MCP) Program: <http://www.microsoft.com/partner/partnering/certified/>. This program gives partner access to the best available resources including technical as well as marketing and sales support for a relatively small investment of time and money.

Again, we appreciate your interest in Microsoft and wish you the best of luck in all your endeavors.

MSNBC is a 24-hour cable news channel in the United States and Canada. Its name is a combination of Microsoft Network and NBC. Additionally, the online news site MSNBC.com is the source of news for MSN, featuring stories from MSNBC, NBC, original pieces and sometimes exclusive content, visited internationally.

Two partnerships with the name MSNBC, were founded in 1996 by Microsoft and General Electric's NBC unit, which is now NBC Universal. Although Microsoft and NBC share operations of the company at its founding, it was announced on December 23, 2005 that NBC Universal would purchase a majority stake in the television network, which left Microsoft with 18%. The two companies remain 50-50 partners in msnbc.com.

MSNBC cable is currently America's 3rd most watched cable news channel,<sup>[1]</sup> behind Fox News and CNN but ahead of Headline News. The news station broadcasts primarily out its studios in Secaucus, New Jersey.<sup>[2]</sup> On October 20, 2006, it was announced that MSNBC will soon be moving from Secaucus to NBC's main headquarters in New York City.

MSNBC, like sister channel CNBC, shares the NBC logo of a rainbow peacock.

Re: Submitting information pertaining to a small cartridge product

Dear Ms. Canzoneri-McCormick:

I am writing in response to your recent call and inquiry concerning whether Emerson would have any interest in information you wish to submit pertaining to a small cartridge product.

Please note that, in accordance with our company policy, Emerson will only consider product and engineering ideas (i.e., we do not consider non-product ideas such as marketing or advertising ideas, slogans and the like) and we will not consider any such product or engineering idea unless and until you accept the terms and conditions under which we will agree to consider unsolicited information. The specific terms and conditions are set forth in the balance of this letter. If you decide to accept these terms and conditions, you will need to submit your request for consideration of the idea accompanied by a copy of this letter SIGNED BY YOU ON PAGE 3 WHERE INDICATED and any other party(ies) that you know to possess rights in any of the information you wish to be considered. In addition, please direct all further communications (i.e. letters, phone calls, etc.) concerning this matter to: Mr. Joseph E. Walsh, Jr. Mr. Walsh can be reached by telephone at (314) 726-7510 or by mail at Joseph E. Walsh, Jr., c/o Harness, Dickey & Pierce, PLC, 7700 Bonhomme Avenue, Suite 400, St. Louis, Missouri 63105.

In considering ideas suggested by persons who are not employed by Emerson, such as you, Emerson does not wish to be provided with any confidential information about the idea(s) until we have made a preliminary determination that the idea(s) may meet a specific business need or provide a viable business opportunity to Emerson. Accordingly, during the preliminary stages, which is the point where we are now, Emerson is interested in receiving only general, non-confidential information which will enable us to determine whether or not the idea(s) is/are of interest to us. Also, at this point, we are interested in knowing what compensation is expected from Emerson if we ultimately decide to use the idea(s). At a later stage, once we have determined whether or not we are interested in learning more about the idea(s), we may agree to accept other information about the idea(s) and keep that information in confidence. Therefore, it is important that you clearly understand that, at this preliminary stage, Emerson cannot agree to keep any information about your idea(s) secret, nor can Emerson agree that it will not use that information for its own benefit. Emerson Electric Co. and its various divisions and subsidiaries employ a large number of people who are constantly working to develop new products and improve our existing products.

EMERSON ELECTRIC CO.

P.O. BOX 4100
ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI 63136

Therefore, although we can only evaluate your ideas to the extent that you provide us with enough information about it/them, during this stage you should be very careful to provide us only with information that is not confidential and which you agree Emerson can use or disclose for its own benefit without any obligation to you.

At a later stage, once we have enough information to decide whether or not we are interested in learning more about the subject idea(s), we may be willing to discuss a different arrangement with you. However, until we reach that stage, if it occurs, we will accept information about the idea(s) only if you understand and agree with the terms and conditions under which we are now willing to consider it/them. They are:

▪ YOU WARRANT THAT YOU HAVE THE LEGAL RIGHT TO DISCLOSE YOUR IDEA(S) TO EMERSON -- Emerson will not consider your idea(s) unless you have the legal right to disclose it/them to us. By signing this agreement, you represent and warrant to Emerson that (i) it is your personal idea and no other person has contributed to it, (ii) you alone own it, (iii) you are not prohibited by contract or law from disclosing it to Emerson, and (iv) to the best of your knowledge, the information that you provide to Emerson about your idea is true. You further represent and warrant to Emerson that you have consulted your employer, if any, and that your employer does not claim ownership of, nor any other rights to, your idea.

▪ EMERSON WILL NOT BE REQUIRED TO KEEP ANY INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR IDEA(S) SECRET -- By signing this agreement and returning it to us, you agree that Emerson will not have any obligation to keep any information disclosed to us secret, and you agree that Emerson may freely disclose that information to other persons (including persons not employed by Emerson). Therefore, you should not provide us with any information that you want to keep secret or confidential. Instead, you should provide us with only non-confidential information about your idea (i.e., information that does not have to be kept secret or otherwise held in confidence). After considering your non-confidential information, Emerson may agree to accept additional information that you consider to be confidential. However, unless and until we sign another agreement that obligates Emerson to keep that information secret, all information that you give to us will be treated as non-confidential information. We strongly recommend that you consult a registered patent attorney immediately to ensure that any rights that you may possess in your idea are not lost as a result of your disclosure to Emerson.

▪ EXCEPT TO THE EXTENT THAT THE IDEA IS PROTECTED BY AN EXISTING PATENT, EMERSON WILL BE FREE TO USE IT AND ANY OTHER INFORMATION THAT YOU DISCLOSE TO EMERSON AS IT CHOOSES, AND EMERSON WILL NOT BE OBLIGATED TO COMPENSATE YOU FOR SUCH USE -- Subject only to the rights that you may have under a valid and enforceable patent, you agree that (i) Emerson will have the right to freely use the information that you provide to us about your idea(s) for Emerson's own benefit, including, without limitation, the right to use your idea(s) in its products, (ii) you disavow any sole or joint inventorship rights in any invention resulting from the idea and, if requested, you will assign any such rights to Emerson, and (iii) Emerson will not owe any compensation to you for using your idea(s) or that information. Also, you agree that you will rely only on your patent rights in any legal action that you may bring against Emerson for its use of your idea(s) or that information, and you agree that you will not be entitled to any compensation from Emerson unless Emerson's use of your idea(s) infringes a valid and enforceable patent that you own. For its part, Emerson acknowledges that you have not granted to Emerson any rights or licenses under any patent which protects your idea(s).

▪ EMERSON'S ONLY OBLIGATION IS TO CONSIDER THE IDEA(S)--In return for your disclosure of information about the idea(s) to Emerson, we will consider it/them and tell you whether or not we are interested in having further discussions with you regarding the idea(s). You agree that Emerson is only required to give the idea(s) the attention and consideration which Emerson, in its sole judgment, decides Emerson will not be obligated to tell you the reasons for Emerson's decision regarding the idea(s), and Emerson will not be obligated to provide you with any information relating to its decision, its evaluation of

Also, you agree that Emerson will not be obligated to return the materials that you send to us, and that Emerson will have the right to freely copy those materials for any and all purposes decided by Emerson.

▪ YOUR SIGNATURE BELOW WILL CREATE A LEGALLY BINDING CONTRACT -- By signing the duplicate copy of this letter and returning it to us, you will be entering into a legally binding contract. Unless and until we sign another contract with you, this contract will control with respect to this subject matter. In case there is any dispute between us with respect to the validity and enforceability of this contract, you agree that the laws of the State of Missouri will control with respect to the validity, interpretation and enforceability of this contract. THUS, WE STRONGLY RECOMMEND THAT YOU CONSULT AN ATTORNEY FOR ADVICE REGARDING YOUR RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS UNDER THIS CONTRACT.

If these terms and conditions are agreeable to you, please sign at the place indicated below and return this letter to Mr. Walsh at your earliest convenience.

Ms. Jo Anna Canzoneri-McCormick
342 North Atlantic Blvd.
Alhambra, CA 91803

Dear Ms. Canzoneri-McCormick:

Firstly, we would like to thank you for your letter to Philips Electronics in which you inform us that you have an idea that may lead to a product.

Unfortunately, Philips will not accept any submission as a disclosure in confidence since it is by no means inconceivable that Philips is already working on the same or a similar idea. Inventions which have been patented will be considered however, upon receipt of a copy of the patent. Your idea must be covered by an issued patent before we can consider it.

Yours faithfully,

YOUR IDEA

INTRODUCTION

Every year, PANASONIC CORPORATION OF NORTH AMERICA (PNA) receives a large number of unsolicited suggestions from customers, suppliers and other correspondents who are not employed by PNA. These suggestions include ideas for new or improved products, manufacturing processes, marketing techniques, and many other things and activities. All of us at PNA greatly appreciate this interest and confidence in PNA.

Because PNA realizes that useful suggestions may come from outside of PNA, PNA welcomes these communications and tries to give them the careful consideration that they deserve.

In order to fully advise those who are submitting unsolicited suggestions to PNA as to PNA's policies in receiving and considering unsolicited suggestions, and to handle so many letters promptly and efficiently, PNA has established a standard procedure for handling unsolicited suggestions.

PNA's policies and procedure with respect to receiving, considering and otherwise handling unsolicited suggestions that are submitted to PNA are set forth in this Booklet, entitled "Your Idea", which, we trust, will be of assistance to you in this regard.

PNA and Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd., its parent corporation, are both large companies that necessarily have large numbers of employees whose primary objective is to develop new ideas, products and improvements. In addition, PNA and its parent corporation have access to a large body of patents, documents, and other information that are used as a basis for further research and development. PNA and its parent corporation also own or have rights under many patents. In view of this, a person submitting an idea should not be surprised to find that the idea is already owned by, or known or available to, PNA. Consequently, PNA cannot be placed in the position of having to make further payment for ideas which PNA already owns or has the right to use.

PNA sincerely wants you to protect yourself to your own satisfaction before making any disclosure of your idea to PNA. At the same time, PNA feels that it has not only the right but also the responsibility to protect its legitimate prior interests in ideas. For these reasons, PNA suggests that you

(c) Reduce your idea to practice by building and successfully operating the device, or by practicing the method. Have at least two witnesses who understand the idea, witness the operation. Make a complete written description in duplicate of the object and purpose of the idea. Describe its construction and operation in detail and include whatever drawings or sketches are necessary to understand it. Sign and date both copies of the papers and have them signed and dated by the two witnesses who understand the idea. Keep one copy and send the other copy to PNA.

(d) Make a complete written description and drawing of the idea in duplicate. Then have the copies signed, witnessed and dated as above, and send one of the copies to PNA.

4. If you are submitting a nonpatentable idea, the procedures outlined in (c) or (d) above may be followed. Whether the idea is patentable or not, you do not need to draw your description and sketches in any particular style. However, they should be sufficiently clear and complete as to detail of construction, operation and novelty as to be understandable to one skilled in the field. A model of the idea should not be sent.

TYPES OF SUGGESTIONS

Generally speaking, ideas submitted to PNA may be divided into two groups: (1) "technical" suggestions relating to improvements in our products or methods of manufacture, and suggestions for new products that we do not now distribute; and (2) "Non-technical" suggestions pertaining to advertising, promotions, packaging and other business ideas.

PNA normally gives consideration only to ideas that can be protected by a patent. While other ideas may often be good, they can rarely have more than slight or "nominal" value to PNA if they have any value at all, because, once PNA has used the idea, another company may copy it freely without having to pay anything to anyone, and PNA would therefore be placed at a competitive disadvantage.

PNA's policy regarding unsolicited ideas can be partially summarized in the following two points, and is more fully set forth in the next section of this Booklet, entitled "Conditions for Consideration of Ideas": (1) Concerning patented ideas, PNA agrees only to consider the idea under the terms set forth in this Booklet and insists that the submitter agree to rely solely upon the rights he may have under United States Patent Laws. (2) Where the idea is not

5. Receipt of, consideration of, subsequent negotiation, or offer with respect to, any idea will be without prejudice to PNA. This includes, without limitation, PNA's right to contest the validity of any existing or future patent on the idea. Furthermore, and also without limitation, receipt of, consideration of, subsequent negotiation, or offer with respect to, an idea, shall not be deemed an admission of the novelty or patentability of the idea, or of any priority or originality on the part of the submitter or any other person. Many ideas submitted may prove to be old or otherwise known to us. Some of these may even be the subject of patents improperly issued for one reason or another.

6. PNA cannot consider any idea on condition that it shall return any material submitted. It is necessary for PNA to keep records of ideas submitted from outside of PNA. For this reason, PNA must refuse to return any material to you, and you should make and keep your own duplicates of your submission.

7. If your idea is patented, and of interest to PNA, negotiations may be entered into. In the event that an agreement is not concluded, the submitter shall rely solely upon such rights as he may have under United States Patent Laws.

8. As stated above, unpatentable ideas, while often good, can rarely be of more than slight, if any, value to PNA, as they can be freely copied by competitors of PNA without payment either to PNA or to the person who thought of the idea. Only in exceptional cases will an unpatentable idea have such extraordinary merit that it could justify consideration of the purchase of such an unpatentable idea by PNA. PNA is under no obligation, express or implied, to pay any compensation whatsoever for the use of unpatentable ideas or the expense of their submission. Under such circumstances, payment by PNA, if any, will be purely voluntary, and the amount determined will be by PNA in its sole discretion. PNA cannot assume any responsibility for any unpatentable idea. When an unpatented idea is submitted, which, in PNA's judgment, may be protectable by patent, and may be of interest to PNA, PNA may negotiate with the submitter of such idea in accordance with the terms of this Booklet, for future patent rights.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, PNA wishes to thank you for the interest you have shown in PNA. Whether or not your idea can be useful to PNA, PNA hopes that your contacts with PNA have been both pleasant and satisfying, and that you will continue your interest in PNA and its products.

Dear Ms. Mc Cormick Canozneri:

Thank you for contacting us.

We appreciate your interest, however we are reluctant to receive ideas from outside the company. Our experience has shown that the value of these ideas to Quaker is limited, and that misunderstandings may develop if Quaker later pursues a similar idea of its own.

However, if you would like to submit an idea for consideration, the first step is for you to complete the enclosed standard waiver form. The completed form with the information you would like us to evaluate should be sent to:

Pepsico Beverages & Foods

Upon receipt of the executed form, your idea will be given consideration, and you will receive a reply in approximately three weeks. However, The Quaker Oats Company is under no obligation to return any materials to you.

We hope this information will be helpful.

Re: Iced Coffee

Dear Ms. McCormick Canzoneri:

We are in receipt of your letter of September 12, 2007. We have no record of receiving any correspondence or contracts from you as referenced in your letter.

In any event, as you might expect, each year McDonald's receives thousands of submissions concerning unsolicited ideas and proposals for products and services from individuals and companies. Because of the volume of unsolicited ideas that we receive, and the difficulty of sorting out what is truly a "new" idea as opposed to a concept that has already been considered or developed by the McDonald's System, we must adhere to a strict policy of not reviewing any submissions for unsolicited ideas that come from outside the McDonald's family of employees, franchisees and approved suppliers. We realize that we may be missing out on a few good ideas, but we have had to adopt this policy for various legal and business reasons. As a result, if we had received a submission of an idea from you, pursuant to corporate policy, we would not have considered your submission.

Please be advised that McDonald's developed its iced coffee independently. Moreover, as you must be aware, iced coffee is a beverage that has been in the public domain for many years.

Very truly yours,

Dear Ms. Maccormick Canzoneri:

Thank you so much for taking the time to write to us here at Pepsi-Cola Company.

Although we are sincerely complimented that you thought to offer us your concept, Pepsi can neither accept nor consider ideas from outside the company. Our company receives many suggestions from the public. However, these ideas often mirror or closely resemble ones we are working on or that we have used before. In the past, this has led to confusion as to the ownership of these ideas.

Therefore, we have had to adopt a strict policy of not accepting any unsolicited business concepts from outside the company. Still, we were flattered that you offered to share your thoughts with us.

Again, thank you for thinking of us. We wish you all the best in all of your future endeavors.

Sincerely,

Re: Iced Coffee

Dear Ms. McCormick Canzoneri:

We are in receipt of your letter of September 12, 2007. We have no record of receiving any correspondence or contracts from you as referenced in your letter.

In any event, as you might expect, each year McDonald's receives thousands of submissions concerning unsolicited ideas and proposals for products and services from individuals and companies. Because of the volume of unsolicited ideas that we receive, and the difficulty of sorting out what is truly a "new" idea as opposed to a concept that has already been considered or developed by the McDonald's System, we must adhere to a strict policy of not reviewing any submissions for unsolicited ideas that come from outside the McDonald's family of employees, franchisees and approved suppliers. We realize that we may be missing out on a few good ideas, but we have had to adopt this policy for various legal and business reasons. As a result, if we had received a submission of an idea from you, pursuant to corporate policy, we would not have considered your submission.

Please be advised that McDonald's developed its iced coffee independently. Moreover, as you must be aware, iced coffee is a beverage that has been in the public domain for many years.

Very truly yours,
